

INTENTIONAL

WHAT IT MEANS
TO BE A CHRISTIAN

Pass It

Matt Jackson, Student and Family Pastor

FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Church family,

You may have heard the phrase as a child, “actions speak louder than words.” There is a lot of truth to that statement. Our values are on display every day in so many ways, for our friends, family and community to observe. We demonstrate our values most clearly in the ways we choose to spend our time, our money, and our energy.

Children are keen observers. They watch their parents, they listen to their interactions, and they usually can distinguish between the hypocrisy of their parents words and their daily actions. As adults, we demonstrate through our actions, in large ways and in small, seemingly inconsequential ways, who we are, what we truly believe, and what is really important to us. Our core values are revealed in how we treat others, and in the time and devotion we give to our family. They are shown in the generosity of spirit we show to friends, family, employees, and service providers, and by the priorities we make clear to others.

What values are you passing on to your children and grandchildren? What will they remember you for and seek to emulate you in their lives? I am thankful to have had parents who not only brought me to church, and taught me to respect others; they also lived their lives in a way that set an example for me to follow. I was taught to serve the Lord by watching them serve. I watched them install ceiling tiles in the Sunday School rooms, sing in the choir, and help clean out hay barns in order to bring preaching services to the Dairy farmers who lived near our town. I watched them write out their tithe check each week to put in the offering plate. I went with them when they took food to those who were recovering from illnesses. I came to know Jesus at a young age because my parents showed me what it meant to love Jesus through the daily testimony of their lives.

When the Apostle Paul wrote to Timothy, his son in the ministry, he said, “I remember your genuine faith, for you share the faith that first filled your grandmother Lois and your mother, Eunice. And I know that same faith continues strong in you.” 2 Tim. 1:5 In other words, the faith of Timothy was passed on through the godly example of his mother and grandmother.

It is so important that we live out the faith and values that we want to see developed in our children. We have a great opportunity to “Pass It”, that is, to pass on our passion and love for God through how we live our lives.

In Christ's love, Pastor Ralph

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT

This week's Volunteer of the Week is Suk Jaskowiak. Suk has served Eau Gallie FBC for many years now on the Wednesday night supper team. Suk plays a vital role preparing, cooking, and serving a meal for over one hundred people each week. We could not provide a meal with each week without her help. Please take the time to thank her this week for all her years of service. If you would like to join her on the Wednesday Night Supper Team please let us know!
