

ROMANS

No Longer Your Master
Romans 6:1-23

April 28, 2019
Mark Harpld, Associate Pastor

FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Church family,

Can you imagine inviting guests over for dinner and then throwing a few leftovers into the microwave to serve them? If you were to do that, would it not speak volumes about how you really feel about them and their importance in your life?

The same holds true of our serving God. Giving Him the leftovers of our lives speaks volumes about His true worth to us. When God asked Abraham to give Isaac back to Him as an act of worship (Gen 22:1), He called it a test — a test to see if there was anything in his life that he treasured more than God.

When it comes to our priority of serving the Lord, it is no different with us. There are times when God will require something really difficult of us in order to accomplish His work.

For example, God may ask you to lay aside your natural instincts of seeking revenge, so that you might demonstrate God's love (Romans 12:17-21). He may call you to sacrifice portions of your time and money in assisting fellow believers (2 Cor.8:1-5). He may require you to move to another state or even another country in order to tell others about the saving gospel of Christ (Acts 16:9-10).

The manner by which we respond to what God requires, indicates the level of commitment we really have toward Him, and whether or not we are serious in our relationship with Him (Acts 9:1-8). Anyone can offer God the leftovers. Only those who love Him more than anything or anyone will give the very best of their lives to Him (Romans 12:1). Will you give him your best or your leftovers?

In His Service,

Pastor Ralph

MINISTRY SPOTLIGHT

The Preschool and Toddler Ministry has such an dedicated team of volunteers that help many of our church families to grow in the faith of our Lord. They consistently love and care for the youngest among us, while providing for their physical needs. Lisa Faulkenberry is one of the many who faithfully serve our children each week. Please let them know how much we appreciate them!
